

Frontend Developer (m/f)

We are Whow Games

In the heart of Hamburg City, your new job is waiting for you - including startup feeling. Together with 50 colleagues, you work to bring the glamour and entertainment of Las Vegas to Europe - with our successful Social Casino on Jackpot.de. From slot machines to table games, our players can experience the entire entertainment experience of the largest casinos in the world for free on their smartphone, tablet or PC.

Who are we looking for?

You are a passionate Frontend Developer (m/f) and you are looking for the challenge of programming sophisticated, exciting, and highly individual online games? Then we are looking for you for our Hamburg Game Factory! Full time and preferably ASAP.

Your responsibilities:

- Development of system architectures and technical solutions for highly individual projects
- You will mainly work with HTML5 / CSS3 and Javascript to develop first-class front end codes for the wide range of our entertainment portals
- You will focus on the implementation of designs, workflows and components as well as their integration into our products and web applications
- Close cooperation with back end developers in coding and troubleshooting
- Close cooperation with the creative & development team to ensure that the features meet our high standards

What you bring:

- Excellent knowledge in development with HTML5, CSS3 and JavaScript
- Several years of experience with AngularJS as well as a sound knowledge of Bootstrap, jQuery, LESS / SASS and Compass
- Experience with NodeJS and build tools like Grunt or Gulp
- Good command of front end performance and profiling
- Web server, version control (Git) and the console are your daily companions
- You have a basic understanding of back end technologies such as PHP
- You are a good team player and like to work independently within flat hierarchies
- High regard for quality, reliability and cutting-edge technology
- You already have several years of experience as a front end developer and yet you are ready to grow, and grow with us
- Very good knowledge of English

In addition to start-up flair and exciting tasks, we offer:

- Dynamic environment with flat hierarchies and quick decisions
- Flexible working hours and home office
- Regular company events
- Fruit, drinks and meal allowances
- Contribution to the HVV Profi Card
